Stress Relief Ideas

When you only have 1 minute

- Slow down. Take a breath. Exhale slowly out of your mouth.
- Micro-meditate: see video at OneMomentMeditation.com
- Step outside. Soak up the nature with your senses: the flowers, the birds; imagine the sun filling your body with gentle energy
- Laugh out loud. If you can't think of something funny, just fake it. Pretty soon you'll be laughing for real.
- Use memories: Think back to what you did as a child to calm down. Think of a comforting object. What made you feel safe and happy?
- Check in with yourself. How is your body feeling right now? How is your mind feeling?
- Visualize yourself feeling fulfilled, successful, relaxed, happy, etc.
- Remember your purpose.

Find pleasure in your senses:

- rub your hands together to generate heat; place them on your eyes or on your heart.
- essential oils • light scented candle or incense • stretch or roll your head in circles
- mindfully indulge in a small piece of dark chocolate or healthy snack • people-watch
- listen to music or nature sounds • jump up and down • sing a song • hot herbal tea
- look at something that makes you happy: photos, children, cute animals • pet an animal
- massage yourself • hold a comforting object • remove restrictive clothing • squeeze a racquet ball

When you have 10 minutes

- Really taste your snack. Eat mindfully. Put the spoon down while you're chewing.
- 10 minutes of: ~ Meditation ~ Qi gong ~ Tai chi ~ Yoga ~ Stretch ~ Walk around the block
- Set a timer for 10 minutes and organize your work environment
- Grab a co-worker and have a mini dance party.

When you have an hour or more

- Treat yourself to a massage, acupuncture, hot tub, natural springs, facial
- Have sex. We're not kidding! • Write in your journal.
- Invest in your work environment: buy a small fountain, hang wind chimes; add plants; declutter.
- Create something with your hands. • Learn a new skill or craft that's fun for you.
- Install a break reminder on your computer. Go to cnet.com and search for "break reminder".
- Watch a comedy or go to a comedy club.

- Take your dog to the dog park and revel in their joy.
- Carve out quality time with your children. You'll be surprised at how much your relationship improves.
- Meditate with others. • Learn Qi Gong, Tai Qi, Yoga.

General advice from the doctor

Be grateful. Create a Gratitude Altar.

Appreciate the good things in your life.

Listen to your own voice.

Stand up for yourself.

Empower yourself to be what you want.

Create a space and time that's only for you in your life.

Make it a priority to spend time with the people you love.

Celebrate every success, big and small.

Unplug: Take a break from technology. That includes the TV and your smart phone.

Sleep: Get at least 7.5 hours a day of quality uninterrupted sleep.

Learn to detect when you are stressed.

- Observe your muscles and insides. Are your muscles tight/sore? Is your stomach tight or sore? Are your shoulders / hands clenched?
- Observe your breath. Is your breath shallow? Place one hand on your belly, the other on your chest. Watch your hands rise and fall with each breath. Notice when you breathe fully or when you "forget" to breathe.
- How do you react to stress? Do you become angry and agitated, space out or withdraw, or freeze up?
- How do you escape from being with your true self? Do you work harder and forget to take a break?
